In this case current from contact 1 passes to ring Z and then to B and armature, this causing current to flow in the opposite direction in armature and reversing the direction of rotation. At the right of the controller is the reversing switch, by means of which the car can be made to go in either direction. The reverse switch is also a drum on which are placed two sets of contacts, these making connection with the stationary points F2, AA2, etc., as the drum is revolved. If the controller drum is moved to point 1, the current from the trolley wire enters at T, then...
