This class of cases, he thought they would all admit, was by no means uncommon. He thought it had already been settled by Dr. Wright s paper, which goes over this subject very thoroughly, referring to the results of early operations by German surgeons in attempting to prevent a further invasion of tuberculous bacilli, that disastrous results had followed, as Dr. Phelps knows, and all of us know who have watched these cases. Dr. Gale has also given them some excellent tables of the result of excision in young children. He thought if Dr. Sherman, in connection with this subject, would give them a complete account of his own operative cases, with all the degrees of motion, atrophy, etc., that it would add very much to the value of the report: He wanted to congratulate Dr. Sherman on his able...
